Care &
Repair

How does it work?

- 1 Press the button on your pendant or alarm base unit for help:

- 2 Our trained operators will attempt to talk to you via the alarm and assess your needs.

- 3 The operator will ask a contact you've nominated to check on you. If no-one is available nearby, if you are in need of further help, or we are unable to speak with you, the ambulance service will be called for you.

Our telecare alarms

Careline Community Service offer a range of alarms to suit individual needs, degree of mobility and other equipment which may be present.

Our friendly and knowledgeable staff will help identify the best solution for you and will never “oversell” a particular product. All our alarms are provided on a rental basis and can be cancelled at any time, or replaced with a different product.

All our alarm pendants are water-resistant, which means they are safe to use in the shower or bath, but should not be fully submerged for long periods.

Falls detection

All our alarms can optionally be supplied with automatic falls detection. This is only recommended for people who cannot press a button after a fall, such as those who suffer from epilepsy, seizures or blackouts. Falls pendants automatically trigger a call to our monitoring centre in the event of a hard fall followed by inactivity, but activation is not guaranteed in the case of a soft or broken fall, or if the wearer is still moving, so the wearer should still press the pendant button if they are able to. Customers who can press a button in the event of a fall should wear our standard push-button pendant.

Digital Switchover Digital Friendly

The digital switchover is happening. BT's infrastructure company, Openreach, are switching UK phone lines from traditional analogue transmission to digital transmission.

As your trusted partner in telecare, Careline Community Service are committed to safeguarding our customers, and other telecare users in West Norfolk, by proactively offering digital-friendly alarms and sound advice during the switchover. Look for the digital-friendly logo on our products and see our website for the latest information:

Q. I have been contacted by my phone company about the digital switchover - what do I need to do?

A. Please contact us to discuss the best way forward for you.

A. Direct Debit is the easiest and most popular method, in 10 monthly payments per year. There is no credit charge or interest to pay.

Q. Will I be charged if I cancel my service?

A. You are only charged up to the end of the month in which the equipment is returned to us. There is no cancellation fee.

Q. Who should my nominated contacts be?
